A Time of Crisis for Public Education
2022 AASA Legislative Advocacy Conference

Jennifer C. Berkshire
Great questions for an education historian:

“Has this ever happened before?”

-and-

“How did it end?”
I HAVE A BIBLE. I DON'T NEED THOSE DIRTY BOOKS.

CLEAN BOOKS IN. DIRTY BOOKS OUT.
For 30+ years, Democrats and Republicans were largely in agreement about the purpose of public education and how to improve it. But that “treaty” has now fallen apart and the issues that previously animated the right have now come roaring back to the fore.

WITH DAVID GOODWIN
“School choice is the new litmus test for Republicans. Self-proclaimed conservatives who oppose school choice are nothing short of political whores, and we will find and support challengers to these RINOs.”

David McIntosh, president, Club for Growth PAC
This week’s primaries continued skid for GOP’s anti-CRT school board candidates
